Mustache.js – How to create a client side Repeat control in XPages
Mark Roden | 4 hours ago | App Dev - XPages
Whether or not you realize it, everyone who uses a repeat control in XPages development is actually using a server-side template. Using the mustache.js library we are able to display a JavaScript object using an HTML repeat control in a directly analogous way to the XPages server-side method.

The History Of Lotus Notes
Peter Presnell | 6 hours ago | Community - Events / People
As mentioned in my last blog post, I have invested a lot of time recently building a clearer picture for myself of the history behind Lotus Notes, including Lotusphere.

Responsibilities of Curators

- Curators need to add content on a regular basis and need to be able to dedicate time (at least five entries per month)
- For each entry these fields need to be defined ...
 - ▶ Authors
 - News entries have to have an author
 - Use the actual author's name, not the platform where the blog is hosted
 - For group blogs (e.g. openntf) use group name
 - If the author hasn't been defined yet, curators need to add him/her
 - Authors pictures must not be bigger than 10kb and need to have a minimal size of 64x64 px
 - ▶ Title
 - Titles must not repeat author names or include blog names
 - ▶ Abstracts
 - Abstracts shouldn't be longer than 2 – 4 sentences !
 - ▶ Entries need to be categorized

Responsibilities of Curators

- Curators can add entries via URL or feed monster
 - ▶ Adding entries that are not found via the feed monster are preferred !
 - ▶ Curators can use the bookmarklet to easily add URLs to Collaboration Today (watch the video: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PYzZT-UgreA>)
 - ▶ To add blogs to the feed monster, send mail to Niklas (requires Notes access)

- Curators can define featured entries
 - ▶ Need to change featured entries on the home page regularly
 - ▶ Need to balance entries (e.g. not only four XPages entries under app dev)
 - ▶ Featured entries shouldn't be older than 3-4 weeks
 - ▶ There shouldn't be more than 10 featured entries

Content

- Only IBM Collaboration Solutions relevant content can be added
 - ▶ This includes everything directly related to ICS but also information which is relevant for ICS professionals
- Only high quality content can be added
 - ▶ Rule of thumb: Would this be presented at IBM Connect?
- The following content must NOT be added
 - ▶ Non-English articles
 - ▶ Blog entries about non-business related topics
 - ▶ News about competitive products
 - Unless compared fair/objectively with ICS products (e.g. by analysts)
- Handling of duplicates
 - ▶ Content that is older can be added, but only if there isn't already a news entry
 - ▶ If people blog links to other sites, only the sites should be added
 - Unless people write additional information or opinions
- Handling of news entries about commercial offerings
 - ▶ News entries covering commercial offerings are only allowed if relevant to ICS professionals, e.g. products announcements
 - ▶ Pure self promoting news are not allowed to be put on Collaboration Today

How to become a Curator

- Contact OpenNTF or use the contact page
<http://collaborationtoday.info/contact.xsp>
- After OpenNTF has assigned access you'll be able to access the curation pages using your OpenNTF credentials
 - ▶ Log in: <http://collaborationtoday.info/login>
